THE CREDO
OF
JESUIT HIGH SCHOOL
SHREVEPORT

It believes in God.

It believes in the personal dignity of man.

It believes that man has certain natural rights which come from God and not from the State.

It, therefore, is opposed to all forms of dictatorship holding the philosophy that the "total man" (totalitarianism) belongs to the State.

It believes in the sanctity of the home — the basic unit of civilization.

It believes in the natural right of private property, but likewise that private property has its social obligations.

It believes that Labor has not only rights but obligations.

It believes that Capital has not only rights but obligations.

It is vigorously opposed to all forms of "racism"—persecution or intolerance because of race.

It believes that liberty is a sacred thing, but that law, which regulates liberty, is a sacred obligation.

It believes in inculcating all the essential liberties of American Democracy and takes open frank issue with all brands of spurious "democracy."

It believes, briefly, in the teachings of Christ, who held that morality must regulate the personal, family, economic, political, and international life of man if civilization is to endure.

JESUIT EDUCATION

Purpose Jesuit High School, A Catholic American secondary school conducted by the Jesuits, has as its purpose to promote the intellectual, moral, and physical development of those intrusted to its care.

System The educational system in use at Jesuit High School is substantially the same as that employed in Jesuit institutions of learning in all parts of the world. The basis of this system is the "Ratio Studiorum", a set of principles and directives drawn up by the most eminent Jesuit educators.

The system is based on the principle that education consists in the complete formation of the whole individual by the progressive and harmonious development of all his powers, intellectual, moral, and physical.

To this end, the faculty through the curriculum and extra-curricular activities strive to foster the students' continued progress toward, growth in, and consciousness of their personal Christian maturity. This comprehensive goal embodies the student's academic maturity and personal maturity.

The student's academic maturity is recognized by:

1. The ability to analyze, synthesize, and evaluate evidence in the pursuit of truth.
2. The ability to understand and distinguish various types of evidence associated with different kinds of methodologies in the humanistic and scientific disciplines.
3. The ability to communicate effectively.
4. The ability to understand and evaluate his own culture and in a limited degree other cultures.
5. Deep understanding of his Faith giving a unified view of life, awareness of the Church as continuing Christ's redemptive action and a clear perception of his proper role as a member of the Church.

The student's personal maturity reflects itself in:

1. Decisiveness in confronting life.
2. Courage and hope in exercising initiative.
3. Loyalty to legitimate authority with positive minded patience in judgment and to ideals not adopting passivity in his reaction to difficult or trying circumstances.

4. Personal dedication to Christ.
5. A generous commitment to creative involvement and leadership in the intellectual, social, cultural, civic, and religious life of his world.
6. A balanced appraisal of reality, of the good and of the evil with their dangers and powers in the area of human achievement.
7. Personal traits of openness in love to God and all men, of developing familiarity in prayer with the Godhead, and a balance of intellectual humility and independence which leads to respect for tradition but maintains an openness to new ideas and developments.

Guidance Counselling To provide adequately for this comprehensive personal Christian maturity, student guidance is under the direction of a Jesuit priest known as the Student Counselor who by special training, modern testing devices, and personal interest in the boys is prepared to work with them toward an intelligent solution of their education and personal problems. Throughout the day the counselor is available for personal conferences in which he offers understanding counsel and provides guidance in personality and character development, and provides information about colleges and about various vocations, professional and occupational, so that the student may intelligently prepare for his life's career.

Each Jesuit priest of the faculty is in concert with the Student Counselor an assistant in the guidance program prepared to help the student who seeks him out not only in matters directly spiritual, but also material and temporal, in studies, social duties, and in other intimate and personal matters as each one may wish.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

1. Admission to Jesuit High School supposes the satisfactory completion of the eighth grade (or its equivalent) in an approved parochial, private, or public school.

2. Applicants must register for and achieve satisfactorily on the Guidance-Placement Examinations to provide reasonable assurance, as far as possible, of sufficient intellectual ability to complete in four years the prescribed course of studies. Students whose examination results do not warrant such assurance will not be accepted.

3. The school reserves the right to select only such applicants whose personal and social characteristics give promise of living up to the high ideals of Jesuit High School and of furnishing suitable companionship for the other students.

4. Ordinarily, transfer students from other high schools are not accepted at Jesuit High School. However, candidates for 2nd, 3rd, and 4th years will be considered for registration only upon the fulfillment of the following requirements:

- a. Their previous course of studies must correspond to the curriculum of Jesuit High School.
- b. They must have attained an average of a least 75% in all subjects for which credit is requested.
- c. A transcript of completed studies and a statement of honorable dismissal must be received from the Principal of the school last attended.

5. All incoming students must present evidence of a recent thorough medical examination and a doctor's statement that they are in good health and free from all infectious disease.

6. Registration of the student is not complete until the initial payment of the required and special fees (exclusive of tuition) has been made. (cf. Tuition and Fees, page 12).

TUITION AND FEES

A full line of school supplies can be purchased from the bookstore at current prices.

Scholarships The Faculty receives numerous applications each year from deserving boys who have not sufficient means to pay the usual tuition, but who are eager to obtain the advantages of a thorough education from the Jesuit Fathers at Jesuit High School. While the Faculty would find it well-nigh impossible to receive all these applications on the limited resources of the school alone, through the generosity of friends of the school it has been possible to open to numerous qualified students the benefit of a Catholic education and moral training at Jesuit High School through scholarships such as the following:

Perpetual Founded Scholarships

The sum of $5,000.00 is required to establish a permanent tuitional scholarship of which only the interest will be used. Following are the perpetual scholarships founded at Jesuit High School:

- Thomas E. Caplis Family Memorial Scholarship.

- Father Sam Hill Ray, S.J., Golden Jubilee Memorial Scholarship.

N. B. Incomplete Perpetual Founded Scholarships:

According to the terms of a scholarship the primary requisite for granting of either full or partial scholarships is financial inability to pay full tuition.

Other conditions required of those making application for such aid (besides the ordinary scholastic requirements) are the following:

1. The parents or guardian of the applicant must fill out the 'Grant-in-Aid' form provided by the School.
2. The scholarship grant must be certified by the faculty committee on aid.
3. Students holding such scholarships are required to maintain a passing grade in every subject.

Endowment At this time the more urgent needs of Jesuit High School are an adequate endowment, additional land for expansion, a school auditorium, cafeteria, classroom facilities, and a foreign language laboratory. To the parents of our students, our alumni and other devoted friends we look for support for these pressing projects. Sometimes one who is not able to give material aid may have friends who would give if only they knew of the work being done at Jesuit High School for the education of youth.

Those who contribute are assured of the lasting consolation of furthering the cause of the Christian education of youth and of making themselves benefactors of the Jesuit Order and consequently sharers in all the prayers, Holy Communion, Masses, and other good works of the 35,000 members of the Jesuit Order throughout the world.

Those wishing to remember Jesuit High School in their Wills should make them out to: St. John's College of Shreveport, Louisiana. This is the legal title of the institution.

SCHOOL REGULATIONS

Discipline The registration of a student is deemed a recognition and an acceptance on his part, and on the part of his parents or guardians, of ready compliance with all the rules, regulations, and directions of the School. Such regulations are calculated to secure orderly and energetic pursuit of studies, to develop and strengthen character, and to promote gentlemanly deportment. Refinement of manners, habits of obedience and order, neatness in person and dress, and punctuality are required at all times as matters of primary importance. The student is required to know the school regulations and to conform to them, as well as to other high standards of civilized, courteous, Catholic behavior.

No student who persistently neglects his school work or whose conduct or influence is considered by the Faculty to be detrimental to the reputation of the School or obstructive to the good of other students, will be allowed to remain in the School. Open disobedience or insubordination on the part of a student makes him liable to immediate dismissal.

For faults committed outside the premises the officials of the School do not consider themselves responsible. Nevertheless, to protect the reputation of the School, the authorities will hold students strictly accountable for any action which compromises the good name of Jesuit High School.

The School Authorities reserve the right, whenever they judge it necessary or expedient, to penalize students guilty of delinquencies or serious violation of discipline. The use of tobacco on or near the premises is strictly forbidden. School property damaged by students will be restored or repaired and charged to those doing the damage.

Cooperation of Parents The authorities in charge of the school consider themselves bound to procure, as far as possible, the advancement of all students. Yet it must be borne in mind that every effort made in this direction will prove fruitless unless the parents or guardians of the pupil co-operate with the authorities in bringing about a compliance with the regulations of the school. Parents and guardians are expected to be familiar with the routine and regulations of the school and to assist wholeheartedly in their fulfillment.

Study at Home Parents and guardians are also urgently requested to insist that their sons devote at least two and a half to three hours a day to study at home. The work assigned each day is carefully calculated, and will, as a rule, require this amount of time for preparation. Should a student seem to have but little to do at home, inquiry at the school will invariably reveal that he is neglecting the work assigned to him, and his quarterly marks will be found to be correspondingly low in consequence.

Telephones Parents are requested not to ask that messages be delivered to their sons during class hours or that their sons be called to the school telephones. This, of course, does not refer to emergencies or cases of serious necessity.

Attendance If a pupil is absent without cause, he renders himself liable to dismissal. Students who are absent from school, even for a period, are not permitted to re-enter class until they have presented to the Prefect of Discipline a statement signed by the parents giving a satisfactory reason for their absence. Parents should call the office on the day of absence before 8:15 a.m. to inform the Prefect of Discipline about the boy's absence.

Accidents Insurance The officials of the school cannot assume responsibility for injuries sustained by the students. However, Jesuit High School offers a student group insurance plan underwritten by Resolute Insurance Company, Hartford, Connecticut.

For the nominal fee of $4.00 the student is covered to $5,000.00, for medical and hospital expenses for each accident, according to the terms of the policy. Parents are urged to become familiar with the terms of the policy. The payment of the Insurance Fee of $4.00 is obligatory since school insurance coverage is mandatory for all students.

All accidents must be reported immediately to the office of the Principal so that the required claim may be filed with the Insurance Company.

Library For the convenience of teachers and students in the preparation of supplementary assignments the school maintains a very splendidly furnished and up-to-date library. Besides its balanced supply of novels and bibliographies, it is blessed with an unusual collection of reference books, encyclopedias, dictionaries, representative magazines and periodicals. It maintains at present a book total of over 7,000 volumes.

The librarian teaches a full course in Library Science during the first semester of the year, and keeps both faculty and students informed on the latest and best publications.

Library Regulations Students may borrow books from the Library under the following conditions:
1. They must have a Library Card, which will be issued on request.

2. They must accept responsibility for books borrowed on their card and be prepared to replace lost or damaged books to the satisfaction of the librarian.

3. They must return books when due, or submit to a five cent fine for each extra day.

Silence must be observed at all times in the library proper. Those who damage books are liable to fine, and those disturbing other students may expect to lose their right to the use of the Library and are liable to the Prefect of Discipline.

Cafeteria The School is equipped with a small but up-to-date cafeteria where warm and wholesome meals are served for the convenience of the students. Jesuit High School has adopted the State Lunch Program and adheres to the regulations laid down by this department.

Since it is against school regulations to allow students to leave the campus during school hours, parents are urged not to request permission for their sons to leave at the noon hour unless for a very grave reason.

Fraternal Organizations Jesuit High School students are not permitted to hold membership in non-parental sponsored organizations outside the school whose purpose is purely social and not parent sponsored. It is immaterial whether these organizations bind their members to secrecy or not. It is universally recognized that they exercise a baneful influence upon school spirit. In addition, they make it difficult, if not impossible, for the school authorities, as religious educators, to fulfill the contract made with parents to mold the character of the students. Hence, any student who is known to belong to such a society while in High School, whether the society be termed a fraternity or not, will be requested to withdraw from school. If there be any doubt about any particular organization falling under the ban the school reserves to itself the right to make a decision.

Students who are members of parent sponsored clubs must attend school functions rather than club functions when these are held at the same time, and the school requires this whether or not its function was announced before the club's function.

Physical Training In accordance with its goal of the proper formation of the whole man, Jesuit High School insists on a comprehensive physical education program to discipline the body, to affect the co-ordination of mind and muscle, and to instill the ideals of sportsmanship and team work. The program comprises the major varsity sports of football, basketball, baseball, and track and the intramural program with its accompanying planned conditioning exercises, small group drills, competitive exercises, and free play — all under the direction and competent guidance of skilled personnel.

Only a doctor's certificate will excuse a student from this intramural program. The school reserves the right to have any doubtful case checked by the official school physician.

ACADEMIC NOTES

Tests Each semester is divided into three marking periods. At the end of the First and Second Quarter of each semester, written tests are held in each subject. Then a period of approximately one month is devoted to a repetition of the subject matter previously covered. This repetition is followed by the semester examination from which no student will be exempt.

In the case of absence from an examination a student is entitled to the mark that his paper deserves provided that the Principal allows him to take a delayed examination on the payment of the out-of-schedule examination fee.

Reports and Awards At the close of each quarter and semester period, a report is sent to the parents or guardian of each student. These reports carry the marks which the student has made in each subject during the preceding period and remarks on his conduct and application to study.

At the end of each marking period at general assemblies of the student body, the Principal awards testimonials of excellence to the first and second leaders of each class provided their general average is 85% or above. To attain the distinction of the Principal's Honor Roll a student must achieve a general average of 90% or above.

Grading A student's achievement in each subject is graded on the basis of 100% for excellent work. The passing mark is 70%. Students are graded approximately as follows: on the period tests (50%), on daily recitation (40%), and on written homework (10%).

In each half year there are three grading periods or reports, viz., two six-week reports and a semester report. The two six-week reports averaged together give a student 50% of his half year grade and the semester examination with the grade earned during the semester repetition gives him the remaining 50% of his half year grade.

Conditions and Failures When a student's half year grade is 60% to 69% he is said to have incurred a 'condition'. In a continuation subject (English, Latin, French, Mathematics) such a student may be allowed to continue in that subject during the second semester, and if he earns a passing grade of 70 for the second semester the condition of the first semester is automatically removed. This applies to only TWO such conditions.

In a non-continuation subject, the student who incurs a 'condition' will have the opportunity to take one re-examination in that subject on a day specified by the Principal. If he passes, his grade for the first semester is 70; if he does not pass, he must repeat the semester's work in summer school.

Students who can earn a mark below 60 as the first semester average, will not be allowed a re-examination as in the case of a 60-69 average, but may enjoy the privilege of raising the first semester mark to a 70 by earning 84 or above in the subject during the second semester. This applies only to CONTINUATION SUBJECTS, to only TWO semester averages below 60, and applies to ALL STUDENTS. It does not apply to second semester averages.

Should a candidate for graduation get a condition (60-69) in only one subject at the end of the second semester, he will be allowed one and only one re-examination in that subject not later than seven days before the Commencement Exercises. If he incurs more than one condition, or if he fails to get a passing mark in his re-examination, he will not be graduated with his class in June.

College Scholarships As an incentive and an encouragement to academic excellence and scholarship the following annual Jesuit scholarship grants are made.

Loyola University of the South, New Orleans, College of Arts and Sciences — a full four year tuition scholarship to an outstanding senior of the high school upon the recommendation of the faculty.

Spring Hill College, Mobile, Alabama — a full four-year tuition scholarship to an outstanding senior of the high school upon the recommendation of the Faculty.

Academic Program The course of studies outlined below is planned as a sound preparation for college entrance and provides that minimum of liberal education expected of a cultured citizen.

There are no electives in First and Second Years. In Third Year a student is permitted to take one of the three courses leading to a diploma in that course. ORGANIZATIONS

Voluntary organizations of students for religious, literary, cultural, and athletic purposes play an important part in the student life of Jesuit High School. The school administration fosters and encourages these groups in a very practical way by having a faculty member personally interested in each and guiding its efforts.

Only those students who maintain a satisfactory standing in their class will be allowed to represent Jesuit High School in any public event, whether it be of an athletic or non-athletic character.

A student's participation in school sponsored extra-curricular organizations forms an integral part of his total formation and as such should be so fostered and encouraged by his parents.

The Sodality The Sodality is a distinctive Jesuit organization, having been instituted in the Roman College in 1563. It has as its end the sanctification of its members within their state in life. It fosters in its members the generous spirit of true Catholic action under the patronage of the Blessed Virgin. It is an organization for those noble-minded students who seek to distinguish themselves as exemplary Catholics.

The Apostleship of Prayer The object of the Apostleship is two-fold: first, to instill into the students that apostolic spirit which, as public men, it is hoped they will later on exercise in the world; and secondly, to join in the great work of reparation for the outrages daily offered to our Lord by sinners.

The public exercises, besides the regular promoters' meetings, consist of meetings of reparation to the Blessed Sacrament on the first Friday of each month.

The Forentthespic Society In accord with their ancient tradition, every Jesuit High School attempts to inculcate in its pupils a more than average ability to use the spoken word and to give oral expression in orderly fashion to the thoughts and principles that constitute our common scholastic and religious legacy. Besides the constant practice of oral expression in the English course, Jesuit High School offers a Debating Society to its pupils as the best and most efficient means of achieving this desired and most desirable end. Though not obligatory, all students are encouraged to participate in this activity.

Ever aware of the value of the Arts and ever conscious of the Catholic tradition that made the Theatre of today possible, the school fosters and encourages worthwhile exhibitions of dramatic skill through the medium of its Dramatic Society.

The Science Club Organized in the Fall of 1958 when the launching of the satellites stirred up new scientific interest, the Science Club immediately began to fill the needs of the scientific-minded student. It gives him an opportunity to develop his scientific thoughts and to experiment with them in the construction of a project. Ideas are further stimulated by professional scientists who address the group and by field trips to industrial plants and laboratories. The members that attain an 85 average in science and mathematics, and 80 general average with no grade below 70, become JETS, members of the Junior Engineering Technological Society. Only JETS may hold office.

Flight In 1953, the Golden Jubilee Year of St. John's High School, the first edition of Jesuit's Year Book, FLIGHT, was published. It is planned to have it appear yearly for the future. The history of the Graduating Class and the participation of its members in the various school activities, their pictures, pictures of the Underclassmen, as well as many other pictures of the campus and high school program, make this a volume cherished by all — a courteous and pleasant reminder of high school days. FLIGHT promises to become one of the finest traditions of Jesuit High School.

BY WAY OF SUMMARY . . .

Our objectives are varied because our obligations are varied.

They are:

As a Secondary School:

- to impart knowledge in basic and worthy studies;
- to teach adolescent boys to think intelligently and wisely;
- to promote character, i.e., personal integrity, self-reliance, responsibility, good tastes, perception of beauty, wholesome use of leisure, worthy social attitudes and habits, physical health;
- to assist in the choice and pursuit of proper vocations.

As an American School:

- to develop knowledge and appreciation of our American heritage of democracy, and to foster loyalty to American ideals;
- to base these, in the students, upon sound principles:
 - of the position of the individual in relation to society and government;
 - of the Divine Source of human rights;
 - of the true obligation to bear democratic burdens, to participate actively and conscientiously in voting or serving as officials;
- to make the student law-abiding, tolerant, and cooperative as a matter of principle and duty;
- to inculcate a just evaluation of American social groups.

As a Catholic School:

- to provide an education permeated with Catholic doctrine;
- to cooperate with Divine Grace in forming the true and perfect Christian: in ideals, knowledge, habits, morality, and the supernatural love of one's neighbor.

As a Jesuit School:

- to form leaders in religious, intellectual, and social activity;
- to foster the humanistic habit of mind, respecting the significant contributions of the past employing classical literature as an excellent means to this end;
- to form habits of orderly thinking through the medium of both analytic and synthetic study of languages;
- to develop an intelligent obedience to all duly constituted authority;
- to develop excellence in the art of expression.

GRATEFUL ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The President and Faculty wish to present this expression of their appreciation to all contributors to the scholarship fund, to the members of the Mothers' Club, and the Dads' Club, to the Alumni, and to our numerous friends and benefactors who, moved by zeal for the Glory of God and the advancement of Christian Education, have given financial help, professional services and advice, the donation of books and material equipment, and the gift of their time and toil, for the development of Jesuit High School, Shreveport, Louisiana.
