Basement Becomes Classrooms; Mothers' Club Donates Intercoms

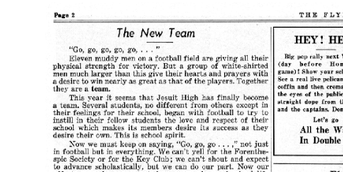
The students returning to Jesuit High were greeted by a new sight. The basement had been converted into three classrooms and inter-communication units were on the walls of each classroom.

The cost of the classrooms in the basement, which accommodate thirty-five students each, was $8,500. The funds are being raised largely through donations, with $500 coming from last year's candy sales. The labor cost was kept down by the work of two Jesuit brothers, Charles Doherty, S.J., and Farrell Blank, S.J.

A soundproof folding wall between two of the classrooms allows them to be converted into a good sized meeting hall. A public address system available for use in the two connecting rooms is provided for. The other new addition to the school is an intercom system, with master stations in the principal's and prefect of discipline's offices, and sub-stations in all classrooms throughout the school, and even on the playing field.

The intercom system, which costs $2,200, will be paid for by the Mothers' Club.

Football Sweetheart Mary Elizabeth Carmody



Homecoming Queen Ramona Bott
—FLYER photo by Aldrich

THE FLYER

VOL. 20 JESUIT HIGH SCHOOL, SHREVEPORT, LA., OCT. 6, 1961 No. 1

Ramona Bott Homecoming Queen, Mary Elizabeth Carmody Sweetheart

Ramona Bott, petit Flyerette captain from St. Vincent's, will reign as queen over this year's homecoming ceremonies next week. Sharing the spotlight will be Mary Elizabeth Carmody, football sweetheart.

Senior maids are Aimee Wilkins and Anne Naughton while Sue Gauthier, Patti Tidwell, and Janie Webb represent the junior class. Donna Anderson, Shirley Bourgeois and Barbara DeFatta round out the court as sophomore maids.

Members of the Key Club will escort the girls at the game while the senior lettermen will escort them at the dance.

The court was nominated by the marching squad and all but the sweetheart were elected by the Key Club. The sweetheart was chosen by the varsity football team.

The Music Masters will play at the dance, to be held next Friday in the gymnasium.

The game will be played at State Fair Stadium next Thursday at 8:00 p.m. with the Homer Pelicans providing the opposition.

Forenthespic Launches Drive For Members

A Talent Night, one act plays, and other speech activities are on the calendar for the Forenthespic Society this year.

Currently, the members are engaged in a drive to inform the students of what the Forenthespic Society is, what it does, and of its membership requirements. As Father John R. Welsh, S.J., moderator, pointed out, "More people would be interested in the society if more knew about it."

Robert Tarpy, vice-president, in charge of preparing applicants for membership.

Each year the Forenthespic sponsors the annual Florettes and Oratory Contests and the play in addition to Inter-Forenthespic speech activities such as contests in dramatic reading, radio speaking, and extemporaneous speaking.

'Flight' Ad Drive $2,200 Short of Goal

Each year at Jesuit High, there is a drive to obtain advertisements for the school yearbook, the Flight. Proceeds from these ads pay for the production of the Flight, the FLYER, and the school catalogue.

Members of the FLYER and Flight staffs have already sold approximately $2,000 worth of ads during the summer months. Right now there is a school drive in progress to help reach the necessary quota of $4,200. A ten per cent commission will be paid on all ads sold during this drive. In the basement, a list has been posted of all the businesses which have not given ads thus far. Anyone needing more ad blanks should see James Shaw or Jackson B. Davis.

The Jesuit Seniors attended the Anti-Communist School last Tuesday with over 10,000 other students from this area. They listened to a talk by Herbert Philbrick, FBI counterspy, who wrote the book, "I Led Three Lives."

Maids of the 1961 Homecoming Court are, left to right: Sue Gauthier, Anne Naughton, Shirley Bourgeois, Janie Webb, Patti Tidwell, Donna Anderson, Aimee Williams, and Barbara DeFatta.
—FLYER photo by Aldrich

Latest Styles to Be Shown Oct. 26 At Mother's Club Annual Style Show

The Jesuit High School Mothers' Club will hold its annual Style Show this year on October 26 in the gym. This is the main event sponsored by the Mothers' Club for school improvement.

FORECAST

October 9—Repetitious beats
12—Homecoming game
Alumni day
13—Homecoming dance
18-20—First quarter exams
24—Assembly
27—State Fair holiday
November 1—All Saints' Day
15—Parent-Teacher's meeting.

Last year's style show under Mrs. Harold Rowley's direction cost $1,200 for various projects. One of these was the acoustical ceiling installation in the basement.

This year's style show will be run by Mrs. Fred J. DiGiulio, chairman, and will consist of a card party, a luncheon, and the showing of the latest styles in men's, women's, and children's apparel. The younger models come from Jesuit and St. Vincent's.

Homecoming Dance—Friday, Oct. 13

8:00 P. M.

Pelican Boys' Sisters John Di Giulio and Robert Tarpy congratulate each other for honors won while at Baton Rouge.
—FLYER photo by Aldrich

Johnson, Ferris Win Baylor Debates

While the first debate tournament of the year is still two months away, many Jesuit debaters have already spent considerable time on this year's topic: Resolved, that the Federal Government should guarantee an opportunity for higher education to qualified high school graduates.

The most successful out of town who attended summer clinics were Robert Ferris and Alston Johnson who racked first at the summer speech institute at Baylor University. The two debaters were undefeated, as they won five preliminary debates, semi-finals, and finals.

William Brandon, J. B. Davis, and William Roach attended the workshop held at Louisiana Tech in Ruston.

This year's topic will be especially helpful to those who are planning to go to college. Through it they will learn about college scholarships, government loans, and other source of financial assistance.

Pelican Boys' State Chooses Robert Tarpy Lieutenant Governor

Robert Tarpy, one of the two Jesuit delegates to Pelican Boys' State, was elected to the second highest office of the mythical government — lieutenant governor.

John DiGiulio, the other delegate, received a Boys' State trophy for Outstanding Citizen in Bienville Parish. The 541 Boys' Staters were divided by alphabetical order into eight mythical "parishes."

The delegates left for Baton Rouge on August 14. When they arrived they received their room numbers and were put into "cities" by alphabetical order. Tarpy was in Maine City and DiGiulio was in Georgia City. After city and parish elections, Tarpy was mayor of his city and DiGiulio was a member of the parish school board.

When Boys' State was divided into parties, Tarpy and DiGiulio were both in the Nationalist Party. Then each parish elected its leader, the parish party chairman, who was in charge of his parish's voting and who served on the party Central Committee, which drafts the platform and steers party policy. Tarpy and DiGiulio both were elected parish party chairmen, from Iberville and Bienville Parishes, respectively.

At the Nationalist Party convention DiGiulio was defeated for attorney general and Tarpy won the nomination for lieutenant governor. The Jesuit boys worked together to get Tarpy the highly-coveted office. DiGiulio made Tarpy's nominating speech and together they wrote the speech which was to eventually win over the majority of the Boys' Staters to Tarpy's side.

At the final convocation Tarpy was invited back as a counselor next year for his performances as lieutenant governor. DiGiulio received a Civic Service trophy nonsmoulding him for his performances.

The New Team

"Go, go, go, go, go. . . ."

Eleven muddy men on a football field are giving all their physical strength for victory. But a group of white-shirted men much larger than this give their hearts and prayers with a desire to win nearly as great as that of the players. Together they are a team.

This year it seems that Jesuit High has finally become a team. Several students, no different from others except in their feelings for their school, began with football to try to instill in their fellow students the love and respect of their school which makes its members desire its success as they desire their own. This is school spirit.

Now we must keep on saying, "Go, go, go . . . ," not just in football but in everything. We can't yell for the Forenthespic Society or for the Key Club; we can't shout and expect to advance scholastically, but we can do our part. Now our efforts must be concentrated on every phase of school life with a silent, determined desire equal to our desire in the bleachers or on the field.

We have the beginnings of truly great school spirit. Now we must carry this over into everything in our lives. Our team of 235 men cannot "go" best unless each of its members wants it to go and helps it to go.

—John Di Giulio

The school spirit committeemen brush up on their painting. They are, left to right: Robert Ferris, Bob Tarpy, Charles Looney, John Di Giulio, and Alston Johnson.
—FLYER photo by Aldrich

REMINISCING

SCHOOL—1960

By John DiGiulio

I used to be different. I used to be a big man on campus last season. And when I say big, I'm not the same big man on campus that I was last season. And when I say last season, I'm not the same last season that I was last season. Confused? Let me explain.

I was different because I was a football player. I was big because I played football. I was a big man on campus because I played football. I was a big man on campus last season because I played football last season.

Now I'm not a football player. I'm not big. I'm not a big man on campus. I'm not a big man on campus last season. I'm not a big man on campus this season. I'm not a big man on campus this season because I'm not a football player. I'm not a football player because I'm not big. I'm not big because I'm not a football player. I'm not a big man on campus because I'm not a football player. I'm not a football player because I'm not big. I'm not big because I'm not a football player. I'm not a big man on campus. I'm not a big man on campus last season. I'm not a big man on campus this season. I'm not a big man on campus this season