The Highest Calling

With Vacation Week right around the corner, the FLYER editors thought it would profit the students, especially the seniors, to learn the opinions of someone who has already made his decision concerning what to do with the rest of his life. The following is an editorial by a former St. John's student who has chosen the highest vocation of all—the priesthood.

Michael J. Looney was a student at St. John's from 1955 to 1958. He was very active in extra-curricular activities, and he excelled in almost every field. He was a member of the Glee Club, a member of the Student Body, and a member of the football team. He was also president of the Frothingham Society, an After School Club, and a member of the Student Council.

The world in which we live is one which has, to a large extent, forgotten God. It has replaced the church bell with the alarm clock, the cathedral with the skyscraper, and the confessional with the psychiatric couch. It has discarded the notion of living in order to go to heaven in favor of that of trying to get everything you can for yourself on earth. It has provided us with a multiplicity of intriguing diversions like television, movies, and magazines, which are extremely effective in keeping our minds off the needs of our souls. In short, it has so captivated us with signs of our civilization's superior progress that we haven't even noticed that all we are really doing is rocketing away from God.

The Crossroads

Jim stretched out on the couch and stared at the dull, gray ceiling. "What is the word on it, I guess he?" he asked himself. This had been troubling him ever since he had become a senior.

After walking for miles, Jim finally came to a huge crossroads, with arrows pointing in all directions. On the arrows were printed the names of various vocations: Lawyer, Doctor, Engineer, Businessman, etc.

Looney Blasts Chamber's Choice—'Barrie' Basketball

Barrie Haynes, Regional basketball coach, was recently awarded the Ath-Lite '59 High School athlete of the year trophy by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber, trying to set its best athlete of the community, let other district games the year sport man. This alone should not be an indication of anything, but when the Chamber chooses a player who is not even a member of the team, it is a disgrace.
