Alston Johnson, Warren Lowe Named to Quill and Scroll

Juniors Alston Johnson and Warren Lowe have been chosen as new members of Quill and Scroll, International Honorary Society for High School Journalists. Along with the honor of acceptance, Johnson and Lowe will receive gold membership pins, a subscription to Quill and Scroll magazine, and membership cards. Seniors John DiGiulio and Paul Farmer, present Quill and Scroll members, will receive new pins signifying their status as co-editors of the FLYER.

Johnson has been a member of the Flight staff for three years and served as business manager of the '61 annual, editor of the 1962 Flight, and will again be editor of the annual in '63. At the Journalism Workshop at Northeastern Commencement Exercises.

Lowe, Johnson Named Editors

Warren Lowe was appointed editor-in-chief of the FLYER and Alston Johnson, editor of the Flight, at the FLYER-Flight banquet, Thursday, May 10. Ronald Baker, M. M. Mosemar, and Patrick Melton will serve as the FLYER as managing editor, assistant editor, and sports editor, respectively. Other FLYER editors named by the Rev. R. B. Hunnicutt, S.J., moderator, were Kirkland Lisenne, assistant sports editor; Geoffrey Robb, copy editor; Milton Lindsay, feature editor; Alan Cobb, news editor; Walter Aldrich, chief photographer; and Fred Carmody, circulation manager.

The following day, copies of the 1962 Flight were distributed to the student body. The theme of this year's annual is "Sixty Years of Education," and the annual is dedicated to the lay faculty of the school. Joseph DePatta was named Flyer of the Year.

Gene Shull New Altar Boy President

Eugene Shull was elected president of the St. John's Sanctuary Society for next year, and Robert Perrin, outgoing president, finished his year by organizing the altar boy picnic.

The other officers, who were elected May 4, are as follows: Joseph Nasser, vice-president; Andre Karam, secretary; and Thomas Manor, master of ceremonies.

The altar boy picnic took place Monday, May 7, at the Y.M.C.A. camp in Fortitop. The altar boys were served barbecued beef sandwiches and Cokes, and occupied themselves with baseball and swimming.

Every Class Reaches Quota; Mission Drive Hits New High

The two-fold goal for the Jesuit Ceylon Mission Drive was achieved for the first time in the school history in the 1962 drive. An all-time record of $1,331 was collected, and every class reached its quota.

The classes of IV B, III A, and III B, which finished first, second, and third, respectively, were awarded prizes of $25, $15, and $10 by the Rev. Thomas M. Kelly, S.J., faculty moderator, at the session held on April 31. Father Kelly also announced that the school would share in receive its Mission holiday on Tuesday, May 8.

IV B's name was engraved on the official winner of the 1962 drive. The plaque will be placed in the library.

Commenting on the success of the drive, Father Kelly said, "The fact that $1,331 was collected is a great source of personal sacrifice was made on the part of the student body."

Charles Looney Wins First Place

Charles Looney won first place in interpretative reading at the Tournament of Champions held April 27-28 at Bolton High School in Alexandria. His winning selection was "The People, Yes," by Carl Sandburg. Alston Johnson placed second in oratory.

The four-man team of Charles Looney, Paul Farmer, Robert Perrin, and Alston Johnson made the quarter-final round of the debates. The two-man team of Frank Liberto and William Brandon won two and lost two.

Others in the Tournament of Champions included Wayne Fontenot and Paul Farmer in Interpretative Reading; James Shaw in Extemporaneous Speaking; and Larry Warner, who made the finals in oratory.

Charles Looney, Gold Medal winner in debate, and his teammate Paul Farmer show how they debated Larry Warner and Jay Gilreath in the finals of the Gold Medal Debate. Looney also recently won first place in the state in Interpretive Reading. —FLYER photo by Aldrich

Negative or Positive

In this, the age of the atom bomb and the hot "cold war," the free world, including the United States of America, is facing the greatest threat to mankind in its history. Communism's black venom has already poisoned more of the world than has ever been under the control of a single power in the lifetime of the human race.

Most Americans have finally awakened to this threat and are beginning to take it seriously. Many conscientious citizens are striving to learn more about Communism and to do their share in fighting it. Some, however, possibly through no fault of their own, are failing.

These are the negative Americans. They don't have a clear idea about what it means to be an American. All they know is that Communism isn't good. And so, they don't stand up for anything, but only against Communism. And they aren't too sure why they do this—it seems like Communism isn't very nice and, besides, everybody else is against it.

Maybe you haven't recognized the negative American. He's the one who points his finger at those who disagree with him and calls them all "Communists." He uses the same fear and power tactics the Communists employ to create dissension. For instance, if he knows of some individual or group striving for the recognition of equal rights for all men, he will often point this same finger at them, accusing them of working for the Communists or supporting Communist doctrines, usually in order to rationalize his selfish attitude about the matter. And he proves his stand by saying that some organization supporting the same rights has a few Communists in its ranks. He never stops to think that maybe the Communists are fighting for the same thing for entirely different motives, the wrong motives.

This is the man who believes that to agree with the Communists on anything is anti-American and anti-Christian. The Catholic Church does not permit its members to dissolve in church marriages. The Communists also frown upon divorce. Does this make all Catholics Communists? Is the Democratic Party supported? The motives of the two are very different and for a Catholic to support divorce in order to fight Communism is absurd.

Exactly why should we fight Communism? Because it denies two very positive and all-important concepts upon which we base our whole society and by which we live: the existence of God and the dignity of man. This sums up what we have against Communism. Here lie the basic differences between the American way of life and that of the Communists. We must fight Communism by standing up for these positive truths. There is no other way.

ALUMNOTES by Andre Karam

HERE AND THERE

Feted on February 22 are, Norman Glaudes, Amos. '56, for his having completed more than 36 years of service to the eating public of Shreveport. Mr. Glaudes will travel with his wife to Biloxi where he will visit his 84-year-old mother and do some sightseeing.

Defending champion of the Dixie Invitational is Pat McDonagh '33. There he will try to hold his title successfully.

At Louisiana Tech Donald A. Goetting, '59, was elevated to the temporary rank of cadet captain in the AF ROTC Cadet Wing. Only effective until the end of the semester, this promotion makes him one of the highest ranking officers in the junior class.

The newly-elected trustee of the Kenny University Rental Alumni Assn., is Dr. Walter T. Colquitt, Jr. His term will end in 1964.

In February Brewster Co., Inc., President Harry B. Marionneaux, Amos. '41, announced that approximately 10 new employees will be added to the payroll later this year. Also announced were plans being made for an expansion of the manufacturing facilities.

Huntsville, Ala., is the new home of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Mateer, '56. John has recently graduated from the U. S. Army Ordnance Guided Missile School there.

SMASH-UPS

Reported in good condition at Doctors Hospital was Jerold N. Lotspeich, '54. His car with three passengers failed to make a curve, and crashed into a utility pole.

Dalton Ray Tramp, '58, seriously injured in a two-car accident, was admitted to Schumpert Sanitarium. There he is being treated for a deep laceration in the throat.

Though the car in which he was riding overturned, William Martin, '60, came through unharmed. He was released from a hospital after emergency treatment.

OBITS

On April 9, Policeman Pat Malley, Amos. '26, suffered a fatal heart attack. With a ready smile on his face, he was a well-liked member of the police force. Mr. Malley was a resident of Shreveport since 1907.

After a short illness Joseph L. Shea Jr., '32, died at the Ochsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans. Mr. Shea is survived by his wife, a son, one brother, and a sister.

Flyer of the Month

by John DiGiulio

It was a hot August evening on the campus of Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge and 541 slow, heavy-eyed high school boys were gathered to decide on state officials for the annual session of Pelican Boys' State. About twenty boys, nominated by their respective parties, stood up to deliver their speeches to the voters. Then came the voting machines.

One of these candidates was Jesuit's own Robert Tarpy who was running for the second highest office — lieutenant governor. He stood in front of the delegation, delivered his speech, and walked away victorious.

Boys' State wasn't the beginning nor the end of Bob Tarpy's accomplishments at Jesuit High. He has been in the Key Club for three years, serving this year as vice-president. He was vice-president of his class in sophomore and Junior years and this year was treasurer.

Bob has developed himself spiritually by being a four-year member of the Altar Boys and Sodality. He has held offices in both, secretary and vice-president of the former and prefect of the latter.

He has also distinguished himself in speech activities, which included a four-year membership in the Forensic Society, three of which saw him as an officer. He advanced from parliamentarian to treasurer and finally served as vice-president this year. He has also been in the school play all four years, his final role being Mark Antony this year.

Bob also writes for the FLYER and for the Journal Tercentenary page.

There are most of Bob's accomplishments at Jesuit, his last will come graduation night when he delivers his speech as salutatorian for consistently averaging second in his class.

To Bob Tarpy, for all his accomplishments and also for his pleasant personality, thanks and congratulations!

Library Books Given

Gifts of books have increased the library facilities, according to Mrs. W. B. Bridges, librarian.

Twenty-one volumes of the Science Study Series have been donated by Mr. Harry Friedman. This series offers the writings of distinguished scientists on the fundamental topics of physics, biology, and chemistry.

Two books on religion and philosophy were donated by Mr. Donald Baker.

Other books received include two books on space projects, two illustrated books on butterflies, and the April selection from the Catholic Book Club, "Claire Quimbo and the Black Robes" by Madeline Pollard.

"The Greatest Class Ever"

. . . by Bucky Bovenz

Sergeant Ronnie Chalaire tried to persuade Curtis Arena and Ernie Champion, a couple of his marine buddies, to build a pontoon bridge, but that idea was soon abandoned when they couldn't get the equipment necessary; Jack Pugh had his high speed, jet powered racing boat with him but even that could only carry one person at a time and then there was no way to get the boat back for the next person. Many suggestions were cast aside because ways across had to accommodate things such as Johnny Brewton's grand piano, Paul Farmer's Indianapolis "500" winning car, and the Rice brothers' portable house. Tommy McGuffy's prize-winning stallions had to be treated gently too.

World record-holding broad jumper, Robert Ferris, had jokingly suggested jumping across, but pro baseball player, Joe Jordan, topped that with the idea that he and the Dodgers' second Frank Howard bet New York Mets and the Tokyo Nats, so he couldn't come either. Charles Smith and Charles Pasquier were wrestling in a $50,000 first prize tournament and decided to bypass the occasion.

The last two grads of that 1962 class, LeGrand Powell and Don Story, were last seen traveling up on Jersey 66 in their Corvair spin. Unable to reach them with a message, we could not invite them to the first reunion of the greatest Jesuit High School class ever to graduate.

This report has been written by that ever-roving reporter, Bucky Bovenz.

LOONEY LISTS HIGHLY HONORED SENIOR SPORTSMEN

by Charlie Looney

Throughout each year here at school, outstanding students who maintain a .93 average are recognized for their scholastic accomplishments by the Principal's Honor Roll. Why not, this reporter asked himself, have an All-Star Honor Roll? If Father Charles Leininger, S.J., can establish a recognition for scholars, why can't Charles Looney, S.J., initiate one for sportsmen? The following, therefore, are the first nominations for Jesuit High's Athletes' Honor Roll:

James J. Bovenzi—for his performance in two major sports merits an average of 97.8. Bucky is an all-stater in football and baseball and was high on the list of top scorers and rebounders for the basketball team.

B. Paul Maynard—for his performance in two major sports merits an average of 93.3. Paul has been recognized for his football and baseball prowess by being elected on several all-city and all-district teams.

Joseph W. Jordan—for his performance in two major sports merits an average of 93.3. Joe led the Flyer Baseballers in scoring and the baseballers in wins. He was all-city and all-district in both sports.

Kenneth P. Guillot—for his performance in two major sports merits a average of 95.4. Kenny is an all-district footballer as well as one of last year's baseball all-city outfielders.

W. James Lisey, Jr.—for his performance in one major sport merits an average of 93.4. Jim is the Flyers' lone contribution to the all-state first team football squad.

Since it is an established tradition now that only seniors are eligible for this AHR, our underclassmen who gave us worthy performances can't be officially recognized. But watch out for guys like Club Parents' Dom Cordaro, Tom Graves, Tom Manor, and Alston Johnson. They could very well become future honor rollers.

Flyers End Baseball Season; Edge North Caddo Rebels 6-5

by Pat Mellon

When the Flyers dropped a 3-2 decision to the Crimson Tide, the verdict meant more than just a mark in the won-lost column for the Jesuit nine, for the defeat meant the Flyers' out of the district championship.

With inexperience as a palpable name, the Flyers turned in a fine season—so far as district play is concerned. Sun seasoned stars as Jordan, Bovenzi, Maynard, and Guillot helped push the Flyers to second place in the district.

The Minden game was typical of the season's erratic record but which started with successive loses to Minden and Fair Park. The Bias blue chics rode Joe Jordan's masterful pitching and Bucky Bovenzi's tremendous bean run to a victory over Springhill. After losing to Westlawn, Jesuit defeated North Caddo with another one of Joe's brilliant performances. Chris Parsons then handcuffed the Bossier Bearcats with a flashy fastball shutout. After dropping the all-important game to Minden, the Flyers downed North Caddo. The win brought the Jesuits up to the .500 mark for the season with six wins and six losses.

Leading the Flyers at the plate was Paul Maynard with 11 hits for 24 and a .314 average. Joe Jordan was in the 100 yard dash.

In ninth grade competition, Greenacres and Rushton placed first and second respectively. The nine schools reversed their places among the eighth graders.

Tommy Kimball Third in State

With his appearance in the State Track Meet at Natchitoches, La., Tommy Kimball, Jesuit's star cinderman, set a record and made history. Putting third in AA competition with a discus throw of 140 ft., 8½ in., Tommy became the highest scorer in the history of the track team and the only Flyer ever to place in a state meet.

Although they lacked depth, the 9th edition of the Jesuit track team, with Kimball's assistance, turned in the best showing in over a decade. The thinclads were led throughout the five-meet season by the point-getting trio of Kimball, Gene Shull, and Rod Chalaire.

In the discus event, the one with all the others beat up in, the Jesuit squad placed fifth with a total of 71½ points.

The rest of the varsity squad was composed of Brandon, Liberto, Fuller, Somerset, Soper, Davis, McDowell, Baker, Plaquier, Perrin, Berger, Landers, Smith, and McLaughlin.

Junior Flyers Capture Firsts

In the Junior High District Track Meet held Thursday, May 10, at Byrd High, the ninth graders and eighth graders swept both placed third.

The ninth graders had been invincible winners and the eighth grade one. With 20½ points, Greenacres' Vaughn McDowell, brand Jimmy Jones Lindsey, and Jesse Bodenheimer, 889 yard run. The eighth grade winner was

Mayeux Repeats on All-City

Sunday, three Flyers received post-season honors by being selected for the Shreveport Times's All-City baseball team.

Heading the list for Jesuit was Paul Mayeux. Mayeux, one of three who repeated as All-City choices, was named as utility infielder on the first team. Joining him was Joe Jordan, who was one of three pitchers chosen for the first team. Billy Burt captured a position on the second team as utility outfielder.

Cordaro Acquitted on Narcotics Charge

J. B. Cordaro, '59 graduate, whose "arrest for burglary and possession of narcotics" was reported in the last issue of the FLYER, was "acquitted" April 7, according to the Loyola Maroon.

J. Bogert, was a part of the actual Mont Court conspiracies, was sentenced by the Loyola Student Bar Association.

Cordaro, a pre-law junior, was more recently elected student president of the College of Arts and Sciences of Loyola University.

Liberto Leads School With 97.5, Mission Awards Given at Assembly

Frank Liberto, III A, led the fourth quarter scholastically with a 97.5 general average. John DiGiulio, IV A, was second with 97.4. The leading classes in the school were: III A, 87.8; II A, 87.6; I A, 85.7; IV A, 85.4.

After the reading of grades in the fourth quarter assembly, Father Thomas Kelly, S.J., awarded the cash prizes to the mission drive class winners.

Father Michel R. Majoli, S.J., president, congratulated the students on their success in many activities and also urged them to be successful students by working hard during the remainder of the year.

Band to Play at Commencement Exercises

At the Commencement Exercises on May 29, the band will give the last of seven recent performances.

The program will include "The Star-Spangled Banner," "The Alma Mater," "The War March of the Priests" by Mendelssohn, the first movement of the "Ft. Fint Military Suite for Band" by Holst, and "The Triumphal March" by Grieg—the processional.

To interest future students in the band, concerts were given for two grade schools: on April 12 for St. John's and on April 27 for St. Theresa's. A concert at St. Joseph's may be arranged.

On Saturday, April 28, the band played for the Spring Festival. The two band playoff for the crowning of the queen and for the dances at the coronation ball.

Mothers to End Year's Projects With Senior Breakfast, Reception

The Mothers' Club will end this year's projects with a banquet, a breakfast, and a graduation reception for the seniors. Mrs. Hollis Tarpy will be in charge of the banquet, while Mrs. Fred Carmody and Mrs. Mason Jackson will head the breakfast and the reception, respectively. The banquet will take place at Mirror Shak House, and the breakfast and reception are scheduled at the gym.

"We have had a very successful year and I wish to thank everyone who has participated in any of the activities," said Mrs. Bernard Gibbs, president.

At the last meeting, Mrs. Bernard Gibbs was re-elected president. Mrs. Philip Titone was elected second vice-president, and Mrs. Fred Carmody was again chosen secretary. Also elected were Mrs. Eugene Clark, treasurer, Mrs. M. S. Bollinger, historian, and Mrs. Fred Di Giulio, style show chairman.

Six Students Receive Awards In State Science Fair; Pistorius First

Michael Pistorius, a 9, received the highest of the six citations merited by Jesuit students in state science competition. Four student exhibits were winners at the State Science Fair held at Bolton High, Alexandria, April 13-14. Two student research papers won second place at Louisiana College, Pineville, April 26.

At the State Science Fair, the "Leaf Anesthetic" exhibit of Pistorius was first in Biological Sciences with John Spencer, I A, taking honorable mention in the same division. In the Physics division Dale Miller, II B, took third place and Albert Dumas, IV A, won honorable mention. Others with exhibits in the Fair were James Shaw and Vaughn McDowell.

Albert Dumas and John Spohrer took two second places in Physics and Biological Sciences, respectively, at State competition of research papers held at Louisiana College. Other students giving papers were Eugene Shull, James Shaw, James Barnwell, Patrick O'Brien, Newton Simmons, Michael Pistorius, and George Jackson.

Lowe to Attend Summer Program

Warren Lowe, III A, has been selected as one of twenty-four participants from Louisiana in the National Science Foundation Summer Science Training Program at Northwestern State College. The nine-week biology course will main-by be a combined lecture-demonstration and individual research-discussion program with emphasis on bacteriology and phylogeny. Dr. R. E. Gordt, head of the Northwestern Biology Department, will conduct the program with the assistance of seven guest scientists.

Selection for the NSF program is based on scholastic ability, scientific motivation, and the completion of specified high school courses in science and mathematics.

Key Club Officers Attend Meetings

During the past month, Key Club President Joseph DePatta and Lieutenant Governor Alston Johnson attended two Key Club meetings, directed Spring Festival activities, and helped establish a new Key Club.

DePatta and Johnson attended a luncheon at Smith's Cross Lake Inn, April 29, along with other Key Clubbers from the La.-Miss.-Tex. District, Division 2, and from the Oklahoma-Texas District, Division 12 including Longview High and surrounding schools. After the luncheon, a meeting followed in order to improve relations and co-operation between the two districts.

At a luncheon of the Shreveport Downtown Kiwanis Club, which sponsors the Jesuit Key Club, on Thursday, May 3, at the Cypress Ball Room of the Washington-Youree Hotel, they expressed their appreciation and gratitude to the Kiwanis Club for sending them to the District Key Club Convention in Biloxi, Mississippi, expense-paid.

Members of the Key Club worked throughout the month of April selling chances for cash prizes to be given away at the Spring Festival.

Lieutenant Governor Alston Johnson went to Byrd to organize a Key Club. As lieutenant governor, it was Johnson's duty to see that the club was properly established. He attended the meeting for the election of officers May 4.

Teachers to Study, Teach This Summer

Among the teachers who will save Jesuit High for the summer, five will study and four will teach.

Father Thomas R. Kelly, S.J., will do graduate work in philosophy at Boston College. Father J. Robert Cousse-Howard, S.J., will study chemistry and astronomy at Spring Hill College. Father William J. Jenkin, S.J., will study sociology at LSU. Mr. Charles L. Coyle, S.J., will study guidance at Peabody University. And Mr. E. N. LeVigne plans to take advantage of the N.D.E.A. and study foreign language at LSU.

Father Michael P. Kammer, S.J., will teach a short course in drama and speech at University of Dallas. Mr. George F. Wilts, S.J., and Mr. Harry W. Tompson, S.J., will teach at Jesuit High of New Orleans, and Mr. Charles A. Bartlett, S.J., will teach physics at Spring Hill College.

Barrelled Balls, Wheels Win Money for Many, Macaw a Draw

By Geoffrey Robb

"Hey, boy, step right up and try your luck, three balls for twenty-five cents!" Many such familiar cries pervaded the festive atmosphere of the Spring Festival held on the school campus April 28 and 29.

The scores of games, booths, and rides attracted a great number of people of all ages and helped to swell the proceeding Festivals of 1960 and 1961, with an approximate profit of $6,000.

Among the more popular of the rides were the ferris wheel and the twister, and of the games, the wheel of fortune, and the penny pitch, which, naturally, stood strongly with the youngsters.

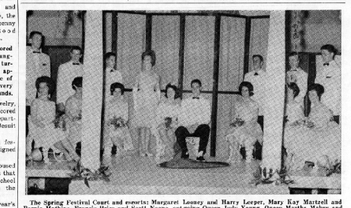
Even so, the one raffle scored the greatest hit with the youngsters with its five puppies, tarzans, and even a parrot that appeared very nervous because of constant approach from every direction of little groping hands.

Not to be forgotten, the jewelry, candy, and treasure trove scored strongly in the considerable donations for the benefit of the Jesuit fathers.

Martha Mabry, crowned in festive array Saturday night reigned Queen of the Festival.

An interesting fact that aroused some discussion, however, was that Father David Lodig, S.J., school treasurer, won the $100 in the raffle held in the gym.

"The fine success of this year's Festival," stated Father M. R. Majoli, S.J., school president, "is attributable to the splendid cooperation given by scores of workers and hundreds of friends and alumni . . . We shall speak our gratitude to God in our prayers. He will know how best to bless those who first labored our endeavors."



The Spring Festival Court and escorts: Margaret Looney and Harry Leeper, Mary Kay Muttrell and Bernie Mathieu, Francis Price and Scott Nunez, out-going Queen Judy Young, Queen Martha Mabry and George Worn, Mary Lee Hefley and Jeff Jackson, Adriane Roy and Tom Hunter, and Janie Webb and Tommy Greco.

Three Former Teachers Will Be Ordained to Priesthood in June

Three former Jesuit teachers will be ordained to the priesthood on June 13 at Spring Hill College, Mobile. The Reverend Fathers Martin L. Ebner, E. Matthew Turk, and Louis E. Meyers, all of the Society of Jesus, will offer their first Solemn High Masses the following Sunday, June 17.

Mr. Ebner taught here in 1955-56, and Mr. Meyers in 1956-57.

Father Ebner's Mass will be at St. Catherine of Siena Church, New Orleans. Memphis will be the site of Father Turk's Mass. Father Meyers will offer his Mass at the Church of the Immaculate Word, New Orleans.
